COMPANY PROFILE

Bespoke & Luxury Safari Specialists

ABOUT US

The Safari Boyz Tours & Travel Limited is founded by 6 childhood friends, who took pleasure in exploring and experiencing the wilderness in its simplest and most beautiful form. Our childhood journey and through our company we have realised the utmost importance of sustaining a balanced relationship between man and nature. We have watched a feeding frenzy of marabou storks from our homes as well as experienced breathtaking safaris in the open Savannahs. We have been wowed by the leisurely crossing of goats and cows as well as experienced the wonder-of-the-world wildebeest migration in the Mara. We have raced paper boats in rain filled ditches as well as experienced the thrill of rafting on the rapids of the Nile. We have swung from branch to branch and tree to tree as well as experienced gripping Gorilla Trekking in their natural habitats. We have played in school sand pits as well as experienced sensational desert safaris in the Chalbi Sand dunes. We have climbed earth mounds around our homes as well as experienced scaling the mighty Mount Kenya. These experiences have inspired us to live life to the fullest and to Do more than just Exist!.

Destinations we offer ...

KENYA

the only country in the world with a national park cradled in the heart of its capital city Nairobi, is one of the most stunning locations in Africa. With stretches of exquisite white sandy beaches to lush-green dense forests and divergent deserts, Kenya is home to the most diverse wildlife population on earth. From experiencing the majestic wildlife in the soothing grassy plains of Amboseli National Park to witnessing the remarkable migration in Masai Mara, traveling to Kenya provides you with the ultimate safari adventure. With the rich flora and fauna, breathtaking waterfalls, the cool breeze and the shimmering waters along the coastal, riverine, and lakeside towns, you never know what awaits you here.

Here are some facts about Kenya:

- It is one of the leading safari destinations with 50 national parks and reserves.
- It has the second-highest mountain in Africa: Mount Kenya.
- With rich culture, it's also home to 7 UNESCO World Heritage Sites.

TANZANIA

Just as the gemstone Tanzanite depicts, Tanzania is truly spectacular and a treasure to behold! The exquisite landscapes, exceptional wildlife diversity and the most beautiful beaches provide you with experiences to remember for a lifetime. From witnessing the great migration of wildebeests in the Serengeti to trekking adventures on Mount Kilimanjaro, Tanzania is full of incredible natural wonders you must see. The turquoise sea and serene beaches are not only a haven for relaxation and tranquility but also a hub for snorkeling, safari sailing and scuba diving. The national parks of Tanzania harbor vast concentrations of wildlife and offer distinctive safari experiences.

Here are some remarkable facts about Tanzania:

- The highest mountain in Africa, Mount Kilimanjaro, is in Tanzania.
- The Ngorongoro Crater in Tanzania is home to the world's densest wildlife population.
- The world's largest mammal migration, the great wildebeest migration, occurs in the Serengeti National Park of Tanzania.

UGANDA

takes pride in nestling Africa's largest freshwater lake, Lake Victoria, which is the principal source of the longest river in Africa and the world - the Nile River. Enthralling riverside expeditions, safari destinations, bamboo forest explorations and gorilla trekking are some of the infinite reasons to visit and explore Uganda. Also known as the heart of Africa, Uganda is one of the most preferred places for wildlife adventures. Famous for its diversity of primates, Uganda offers excursions to observe gorillas, golden monkeys and wild chimpanzees in forest parks, wilderness reserves and natural habitats. From breathtaking views to diverse wildlife, from majestic islands to the exquisite Nile River and from its rich heritage to ancient tombs, Uganda has everything you need for a great vacation.

Here are some facts about Uganda:

- Over two-thirds of Uganda's land is set aside for wildlife conservation.
- It's one of the few countries through which the equator crosses.
- The national parks in Uganda are home to more than half of the world's mountain gorilla population.

ZANZIBAR

heaven on earth and a cocoon that envelops you in comfort and luxury, is an island in the turquoise waters of the Indian Ocean. Zanzibar offers the most awe-inspiring beach experiences you will ever have. The sparkling white sands, flourishing marine life and dense tropical vegetation make it a must-visit destination. This beautiful island is the ultimate place for scuba diving and snorkeling. World-famous for its spices, Zanzibar also offers spice plantation tours. Whether you want to enjoy water activities or go deep-sea fishing, the beautiful waters of Zanzibar offer the most memorable beach experience for every adventure lover.

Here are some facts about Zanzibar:

- Zanzibar is a year-round destination temperature-wise, with average daytime highs between 28-32 degrees Celsius and night-time lows between 20-25 degrees Celsius.
- It is home to the almost extinct Zanzibar red colobus monkey, the Zanzibar servaline genet and the Zanzibar leopard.
- The islands are sometimes referred to as the 'Spice Islands,' as spice farming forms a major part of Zanzibar's economy.
